By JACK BELL
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democrats name their presidential candidate today with Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts riding a crest his backers believe will give him a first-ballot victory.
A festive, noisy, and generally disorderly convention which exploded with an ovation for Adlai E. Stevenson left the Massachusetts senator's major opponents clinging to the cliffs of hope that Kennedy's tidal wave will recede quickly if it doesn't engulf them at the start.
But they had only a precarious handhold. This was demonstrated by the fact that Kennedy had what was regarded as solid commitments of delegate votes less than 20 short of the 761 needed for the nomination. Nobody ever came that close in the past and then lost out.
Thirsty For Victory
This, moreover, was a convention thirsty for the wine of November victory. As such it roared

Commissioners To Call Rt. 15 Session

The Adams County commissioners this morning voted to hold a public meeting "for everybody in the county" in connection with the proposed Gettysburg bypass of Route 15.

Noting that a number of residents along Route 15 had asked the state Highway Department for a hearing on the matter, the commissioners held that "we believe this is a matter that is of interest to everyone in the county" and directed their clerk, Crosby N. Hartzell, to contact the state to arrange for a date on which to hold the meeting.

COURT SOUND PROOFING MAY COST $12,000

Air conditioning and sound-proofing of the court room will cost in the neighborhood of $12,000, the Adams County Commissioners were told this morning at their meeting in the court house.

Robert and Marvin Pond, of the local Climate Control Corporation, presented rough figures of cost in outlining to the commissioners what they think will be needed if the problem of extraneous sound is to be solved for the local court room.

Air conditioning is being considered because any effort to cut off sound is also going to cut off outlets to the outer air if it is to be effective, the commissioners said they understood from numerous talks with various engineers.

Pond's Opinion

Robert Pond held that only closing of the ten large windows in the court room by insulation and plywood will be effective in cutting down the noise from the streets. Glass storm windows he said would permit too much noise to enter the court room.

Pond recommended to the commissioners installation of a water cooled system based upon machinery in the basement of the court house and vents in the ceiling of cooled and fresh air and removal of warm air.

Heavy equipment in the attic of the courthouse, he said, would (Continued On Page 2)

COL. MYERS IS NAMED TO HEAD DEPOT SUPPLY

Col. Robert E. Myers, Gettysburg, has been assigned as director of centralized depot supply activities with the Army Transportation Materiel Command, St. Louis, Mo.

A native of Maryland, Colonel Myers attended Gettysburg High School and studied at Pennsylvania State College, while a project engineer with the Pennsylvania Highway Department.

He entered service with the Pennsylvania National Guard in 1936 and was stationed for a time prior to World War II at Harrisburg with the 103rd Quartermaster Regiment. He served at several camps in the U.S. until 1944, when he went to Europe with the 103rd Infantry Division. He later was acting chief of staff of the division. He joined the 45th Division in July, 1945, and was divisional chief of staff when the Thunderbirds returned to the U.S.

Harrisburg CO
Colonel Myers later served as commanding officer of the Harrisburg Military District and as an instructor with the Organized Reserve Corps at Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Transferred to the Far Eastern Command in August, 1948, he became quartermaster of U.S. Army Forces in Korea. A year later he was named chief of supply with the Korean Military Advisory Group. On his return to the U.S. (Continued On Page 2)

JUBILEE SALE AT REA-DERICK

Rea and Derick's Drug Store, Lincoln Square, will join 37 other members of the chain in 35 Pennsylvania communities in the 40th anniversary sale which will open Thursday and continue through July 30. Theme of the sale days is "Celebrating with Values" and unusual discount prices will be offered Rea and Derick patrons.

The drug store firm had its beginning in July, 1920, when Scott C. Rea and George C. Derick opened their first store in Sun-sori said he is presenting his fellow Missourian, Sen. Stuart Symington, to the convention with the belief that Kennedy is 70 to 80 votes short of the 761 needed for the nomination.

To Enter Adlai's Name
Blair did not discount the possibility of a Kennedy cruncher, even on the second ballot. But he shook off as premature suggestions that Symington might agree to take second place on the ticket.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma made it emphatic that Stevenson's name will be put on the ballot for the countdown which would be reached after time-restricted nominating speeches and the usual hoopla of banner-waving supporters marching and chanting about the hall.

The convention got its first taste of the excitement delegates and spectators crave when Stevenson, twice the party nominee, paid an unannounced visit to the floor Tuesday night.

Elmer Bigham, 71, Fairfield R. 1, was admitted to the Warner Hospital this morning at 7:15 o'clock in the ambulance after suffering a fractured skull in an accident at the Knouse Foods plant, Orrtanna.

Bigham was injured when he stepped off the edge of a can car and fell about three and one-half feet to the ground.

The body of AMS/2 Fred Allen Furney, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Harmon Furney, Sunset Ave., was recovered Tuesday afternoon from the Atlantic Ocean off Barnegat Lightship, 16 miles off the New Jersey coast.

Airman Furney had been among 18 sailors who died in the crash of a huge blimp on a rescue mission last Wednesday.

Funeral arrangements were being made today for the young sailor, father of a two-year-old daughter, who was on what would have been his last flight aboard a blimp when the 403-foot ZPG-3W, one of the four largest blimps in the world, crumpled and fell into the sea.

Took Injured Man's Place

His wife told his parents that Airman Furney had submitted his resignation from blimp flight duty the day before the fatal crash. He had not been scheduled for air duty last Wednesday, but when a fellow sailor who had been listed for the flight suffered broken fingers in a softball game Furney was assigned to what was to be the final flight of the ship.

Memorial services were held at Lakehurst, N. J., Tuesday for the men lost in the catastrophe. A few hours after the service nearly all of the bodies had been discovered.

Was In Galley

One of the three men who survived told Airman Furney's wife that he had spoken to Furney moments before the crash. As Furney passed a table where the other airman was seated, he was invited to join in a game of cards. He said he had worked to do in the galley and continued on there. "The next thing I knew we were in the water," the airman told Mrs. Furney.

Mrs. Furney is closing their home in New Jersey and is planning to reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Warner, formerly of Biglerville, now of Mechanicsburg R. 1.

The Navy announced today that a major portion of the water-logged gas bag and a small part of the airship's gondola have been lifted from the ocean floor. The "major portion" of the limp bag brought to the surface was the entire forward half of the 403-foot blimp, the statement said.

bury, Pa. By the end of the 30's, 23 stores had been opened in eastern and central Pennsylvania. Latest units have been super-stores, mostly of the self-service type in contrast to the personal service which featured store operations 40 years ago.

The heart of every Rea and Derick store is still the prescription department. The glass and ceramic apothecary jars have become collectors' items or pharmacy show-pieces for today's stores feature pharmacists who compound the prescriptions in a prominent place in full view of the customer.

In Old Days
In the old days wrought iron chairs and stools were the soda fountain vogue with only ice cream, sodas and milk shakes available at fountain service. Now every modern Rea and Derick fountain boasts a menu to satisfy the keenest appetite.

From their earliest days the founders of Rea and Derick aimed at rendering the best possible service on drug store merchandise of dependable quality at a minimum price. This remains one of the principles of the modern super stores.

COURT SOUND

"rock the building." The cooling system he proposed would put 33 per cent fresh air into the court room "at a minimum." The system could be expanded to provide air conditioning to other offices if the court room is reduced in size at some later time and office space constructed in part of its area.

Pond also held that if it is decided to extend air conditioning to the offices downstairs "the most economical way" would be by window air conditioning units in each office.

Pond recommended to the commissioners, "regardless of air conditioning," that they rewire the courthouse. He held that the court house has reached the capacity of the present power intake into the building and that a dangerous situation may be approaching if additional equipment comes into use.

Pond said that the recommendation had nothing to do with the air conditioning or his services because the air conditioning would receive its power from a separate circuit.

Any system of air conditioning will also require insulating above the ceiling of the present court room, Pond said. Whether or not the commissioners will adopt a program of air conditioning and soundproofing for the court room was not immediately decided. Nor was it apparent whether the work could be done in time for the August term of court. If the commissioners decide to go ahead with plans, bids will have to be asked for the work over a period of several weeks. Pond said this morning that the installation of a system such as he suggests would take "about four weeks."

Surrounded by admirers and newsmen as he reached the outer gates of the convention area, the former Illinois governor literally had to fight his way to the floor behind a cordon of policemen.

Whoop And Holler

His appearance awoke the previously lethargic galleries. They whooped and hollered as they had few occasions to do in this well-oiled convention. But a lot of voting delegates noticeably sat on their hands.

Kennedy's backers had hoped to get Stevenson to place the Massachusetts senator's name in nomination. But Stevenson stood them off with the observation that he couldn't desert those who had worked so hard to generate a draft for him.

Draw Bronx Cheers

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Kennedy's floor manager, stuck to his line that Kennedy will win the nomination on the first or second ballot.

The Kennedy camp remained so outwardly confident of the result that it was considering giving Johnson the opportunity of refusing second place on the ticket. Some of the Massachusetts senator's backers had half an idea that Johnson might take it.

In such a situation Johnson could run both for re-election to the Senate and for vice president. This idea drew Bronx cheers from Johnson's supporters.

DELAY JAP ELECTION

TOKYO (AP)—Factional rivalries within the ruling Liberal-Democratic party today postponed election of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's successor at least 24 hours, but Hiyato Ikeda was still considered likely to win Thursday. Ikeda, known for his pro-Western thinking and tough anti-inflationary policies, was believed to command enough of the party convention's 513 votes to win on at least the second ballot. Only a simple majority is needed.

It was decided that each member will adopt a project to earn $1 until the end of the summer for a contribution for the use of the meeting room. Plans were discussed for a swimming party next Wednesday, July 20, at 1 p.m. at Crouse's Pool, near town. Each girl will take her own lunch for the evening meal. The girls sewed on their current projects. Group games were played.

The next regular meeting will be held on Monday, July 25, at 1:30 p.m. at St. Paul's. Beverly Hartlaub will give a show and tell, and there will be a joint show and tell by Debra Schue and Anna Myers.

Today's Talk

YOU MAY BECOME A PRAYER

I have thought a great deal about the subject of this talk. We have often imagined that many a one has been so kind and helpful that even a person may become a wrapped prayer, some one to step into the heart, able and ready to bring a little of Heaven into the life of us all.

You, my friend, may become a prayer, to lead and guide you into scores of other lives, themselves awaiting, perhaps, just to demonstrate that they are, in actuality, real prayers at work in the world, lighting the pathway to the best in life, overcoming the sad, or difficult.

You may recall the Bible story of the person, to whom Christ spoke and told to arise and walk, after a long illness. That man of faith did as the Great Teacher suggested and was made whole again—a walking prayer, giving life and hope to all about him. I pass many a happy face on the street each day, with the smile of victory to that countenance. No matter what station in life we may be a part of, we can spread beauty all about ourselves, and also to those who may influence and guide us on our way, as happy travelers.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Music Of The Out-Of-Doors."

Just Folks

WHEN HE'S A MAN
"What shall I be when I'm a man?"

Questioned my five-year-old. I looked at him, and then began to think what should be told. What shall I teach my boy to be when childhood's days are through?

This was the thing he asked of me. And this I said: "Be true."

"Though fame and money both are good, Let them not rule your mind. You'll shine in any neighborhood if always you are kind. And when you're left your daddy's knee

And wandered far from here, Than rich, I'd rather have you be Straightforward and sincere.

"Your God, your country and your home Respect with all your might; For them, no matter where you roam, Cling always to the right. Be honest, gentle, brave and true, And helpful where you can. There's nothing more to be or do, My boy, when you're a man."

CHURCH ISSUE LOOMS LARGER IN CONVENTION

By RELMAN MOREN
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The issue raised by Sen. John F. Kennedy's religion hung over the Democratic convention today as the moment neared for balloting on a presidential candidate.

Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. That will both help him and hurt him, as he himself analyzes it. He says the two reactions will cancel each other. But the issue is there.

Telegrams urging delegates not to vote for him, because of his religion, have reached several state delegations.

Baptist Petition
Three Baptist clergymen are trying to put before the convention a petition—with 500,000 signatures, they say—opposing any Catholic for president or vice president.

Several speakers have alluded publicly to Kennedy's religion. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who favors Adlai E. Stevenson for the nomination, told a news conference that although the religious issue has played no important part in the political picture so far, she did not know whether this would still be the case going into November, the election month.

Johnson Stand
Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, himself a candidate for the nomination, said Tuesday: "We proved in the West Virginia primary that Protestants will vote for a Catholic. Now we want more of the Catholic states to prove they'll vote for a Protestant." But Johnson also said: "Our party is not going to veto a man or vote for a man because of his religion."

In a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington last April 21, Kennedy referred to the issue.

Kennedy Appeal
"Nor am I appealing, as is too often claimed, to a so-called Catholic vote," he said. "Even if such a vote exists—which I doubt—I want to make one thing clear again: I want no votes solely on account of my religion. Any voter, Catholic or otherwise, who feels another candidate would be a superior president should support that candidate. I do not want any

BLUE SHIELD RATE HEARING IN THIRD DAY

By FRED B. WALTERS
HARRISBURG (AP)—A specialist on medical costs has suggested that the Medical Assn. of Pennsylvania (Blue Shield) consider stricter budgeting as a method of halting the rising costs of its insurance coverage.

Dr. I. S. Falk, consultant to the United Steelworkers Union, made the suggestion Tuesday at a hearing called by the State Insurance Department to discuss Blue Shield request for a rate increase and to inaugurate a new plan covering citizens 65 and over.

The hearing, which began Monday, entered its third day today. Discuss Rate Boost
Most of Monday's session was devoted to the 12-million-dollar rate increase. It would boost the monthly bills of about 75 per cent of Blue Shield's 4,200,000 subscribers between 6 and 30 per cent.

"The physicians of Pennsylvania—who are the recipients of the money collected by Blue Shield—control the policy of the organization," said Falk, who made an impressive witness with his deep, resonant, highly cultured voice.

"As it is constituted today, the Blue Shield plan of Pennsylvania has given a signed, blank check to the medical profession," he added.

Would Allocate Sum

A majority of Blue Shield's board of directors are physicians. Under Falk's plan, the association would decide in advance how much money it would spend each month over a stated period and allocate fees to participating physicians on the basis of this budget.

This type of budgeting was common in the early days of the Blue Shield movement. Falk said he does not know whether any Blue Shield organizations elsewhere practice it today.

A Lively Topic

Physicians' fees under Blue Shield coverage have been a lively topic of the hearing on the rate increase and the so-called "Senior Citizens' Plan."

Falk maintained Blue Shield had not given neatt inoatow-etorl natives to raising its rates as a means of battling continued deficits over the past several months. These alternatives, he said, were reducing fees to participating physicians—"as businesses do when they are in financial difficulties"—or more rigid control of costs.

Defended Quietly

Blue Shield called the chairman of its Fee Schedule Committee, Dr. Lewis T. Buckman, Wilkes-Barre, as its chief witness. Staring thoughtfully at his clasped hands and scarcely looking at his interrogators, Buckman quietly defended the Blue Shield fee schedule. He said it was a reasonable, based on what the association considers a fair average payment throughout the state.

Alan M. Ruben, assistant Philadelphia city solicitor, drew from him at one point an admission that a fee for a minor eye treatment—Buckman is an eye specialist—had been raised from $5 to $7.50 after an unidentified western Pennsylvania ophthalmologist had asked for a much larger increase.

About 110 million tons of cargo a year move along the Rhine inland waterway which carries products for West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands, France and Switzerland.

vote cast for me for such illogical and irrelevant reasons."

Most of the opposition to Kennedy, on religious grounds, appeared to be coming from Southern states.

Former Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama issued a statement saying: "Let's face the facts. The paramount issue of segregation and integration is segregation and integration of church and state."

Dr. L. A. Mosely, an Alabama delegate, said he had received a telegram which said, "If you vote for Kennedy, you can come back to Uniontown (his home) but only long enough to pack your bags."

Leaders Support Different Choices

LOS ANGELES (AP)—So, we're Pennsylvania Dutch say the Leaders.

That means George M. Leader, former governor of the Keystone State, and Henry B. Leader are staunchly supporting different candidates at the Democratic National convention.

George is backing Sen. John F. Kennedy for president. Henry is supporting Adlai Stevenson. "Heck, we're not fighting," said the former governor. "It's just that he likes one and I like the other."

CAMERAS MISS TEXAS BLUSH AT TV GIBES

By BOB THOMAS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—These are times that try the souls of convention watchers before the home screen.

The second session of the Democratic National Convention tested their endurance. That endurance must have snapped for most viewers as the meet ground on for six hours, less nine minutes.

Plus which, all three networks went on the air an hour early to cover the Kennedy-Johnson debate.

Lot Of Viewing

Man, that's a lot of viewing. A rapid calculator has come up with this observation: Air time for Tuesday's political show equaled the running time of "Gone With the Wind" and "Ben-Hur" placed end to end.

The end result for loyal viewers was numbness. Not just physical, but mental, too. Politics aside, there was simply too much talk for any human being to assimilate.

Need Color TV

The best part of the show was in the first half hour. The TV cameras moved right in on the Johnson-Kennedy exchange in the Billmore ballroom and caught the nuances of this rare spontaneous event. Only one thing was missed on the home screen, the deep blush on Johnson as Kennedy finished his talk with gibes. None of the networks is televising in color.

Two rare moments were caught by the cameras at the Sports Arena. One was the entrance of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, which the TV viewers saw before convention Chairman Leroy Collins did.

The demonstration for Adlai E. Stevenson also was exciting. This was TV reporting in crack style. The cameras moved right in on the surging mob around Stevenson, giving a view that spectators in the arena couldn't get.

The rest of the evening was rugged going. It was a clever idea to pictorialize the platform with film clips, but the running time was too much. The Dixie assault on the civil rights plank produced a lot of oratory, some of it fiery, but no real drama.

WAGE BOOST IS OPPOSED

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An increase in the minimum wage for retail employees would force many small businesses in Pennsylvania to close or lay off workers, the state's new Mercantile Minimum Wage Board was told Tuesday.

Merchants and Chamber of Commerce representatives said at a wage board hearing that even the present minimum of 85 cents an hour has been a handicap to merchants.

The board is conducting the hearings to prepare recommendations on minimum wages for some 200,000 women and children working in the state's retail stores.

Atty. Earl J. Schermerhorn, president of the Ambridge Chamber of Commerce, declared:

"Any upgrading of minimum wages is going to make it that much worse for them (the merchants). The merchants all say it means a general increase right across the board. They can't afford that."

Arthur Pafker of the Greater McKeesport Chamber of Commerce said all of 39 stores surveyed in that city reported they would cut down their work force if the minimum wage is raised.

2 WITNESSES FINGER DRIVER IN BANK THEFT

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Two government witnesses have testified they saw Paul J. McCarthy in an alleged getaway car following the robbery of the First National Bank of East Smithfield March 26, 1959.

McCarthy, 29, Elmira, N.Y., is charged with the $2,919 bank robbery.

John Nichols, president of the Valley Live Stock Co., Athens, Pa., told the court he saw McCarthy sitting in a parked car near the Bradford County bank about March 26, 1959.

Mrs. Emma Daniels, an East Smithfield housewife, said she was returning from Elmira the day of the robbery and that McCarthy passed her on the highway at a fast rate of speed.

Asked why they hadn't told their stories to police or FBI agents before they testified at a grand jury hearing in March, Nichols said, "nobody asked me," and Mrs. Daniels said she was a friend of the McCarthy family.

ber of Commerce, declared: "Any upgrading of minimum wages is going to make it that much worse for them (the merchants). The merchants all say it means a general increase right across the board. They can't afford that."

Arthur Pafker of the Greater McKeesport Chamber of Commerce said all of 39 stores surveyed in that city reported they would cut down their work force if the minimum wage is raised.

ELLER FAVORED IN GOLF PLAY

By HAROLD HARRISON
CINCINNATI (AP)—Picking a favorite for the 1960 women's Trans-Mississippi Golf championship already has become just about as difficult as foretelling the score of today's second All-Star baseball game.

The kids—teen-agers and girls in their early 20s—ran into a peck of trouble in Tuesday's first round matches, but by sheer numbers they had to be rated high.

On the basis of past play, Curtis Cuppers JoAnne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash.; Judy Eller, Old Hickory, Tenn.; and Ann Casey Johnston, Mason City, Iowa, rate as major factors.

JoAnne and Judy are in the younger group. Mrs. Johnston is a veteran and the defending champion.

Mrs. Johnston today meets Barbara Slobe of Waukegan, Ill., the 1958 champion in her home state.

FARM PITCHER JOINS GIANTS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An early harvest from the farm system, pitcher Juan Marichal, joins San Francisco Friday in a move to strengthen the skidding Giants.

The move marks the first player change for Tom Sheehan since he took over as manager June 18. He can only hope the Pacific Coast League strikeout king brings the electrifying change, the addition of Willie McCovey did a year ago.

McCovey broke into the Giants lineup July 30 and blasted two triples and two singles. After seven games he had 14 hits in 30 times at bat and finished with .354 in 52 games.

With this year's Giants, including McCovey, in a big slump and tied for fourth place, the call went out for Marichal.

Juan, 21, has had only two full seasons in the minors. In 1958, he won 21 and lost 8 for Michigan City of the class D Midwest League. He also won two playoff games.

Robert Resigns As Representative

NEW YORK (AP)—The Major League Player's Assn. has decided to keep out of the Continental League controversy.

The association held its annual meeting Tuesday and told its legal adviser Judge Robert C. Cannon of Milwaukee that it did not want to take a stand one way or another on the CL.

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies also resigned as the National League's chief spokesman. He said he felt he had held the position long enough, seven years.

Bob Friend of the Pittsburgh Pirates was elected league representative.

The association also submitted a number of proposals for increased pension benefits to the insurance firm which underwrites the plan.

National League Is Given Only Even Chance To Win Second All-Star Tilt Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Despite their victory in Kansas City Monday and their superior punch in the starting lineup, the National League was no more than even money today to sweep the two-game All-Star set against the physically handicapped American League.

A crowd of some 45,000 was expected to see Pittsburgh right-hander Vernon Law, 11-4, and New York left-hander Whitey Ford, 5-5, face each other on the mound in the 29th midsummer game and the first in Yankee Stadium since 1939. The Americans, despite their loss two days ago, still lead the series, 16 to 12, but the Nationals have taken eight of the last 12.

AL Manager Al Lopez and NL pilot Walter Alton have decided to stick to the same hitting orders that faced each other in the 100-degree heat in Kansas City's Municipal Stadium Monday.

4 Yankee Sluggers
Lopez, the Chicago White Sox skipper, once again will have the four Yankee sluggers — Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle, Bill Skowron and Yogi Berra — right in the middle where the strength is supposed to be. The quartet didn't distinguish itself in KC, managing only a single by Skowron and two walks by the crippled Mantle in 10 total appearances.

Mantle, still nursing a sore leg as a result of being hit by a pitch thrown by Washington's Pedro Ramos last week, is handicapped in the field and on the bases. Detroit's Al Kaline, his understudy in center field, also is bothered by a sore leg.

Ronnie Hansen, Baltimore's rookie shortstop, and Pete Runnels, Boston's veteran second baseman, both reported feeling better after suffering ill effects from the intense Kansas City heat.

Cooler Weather
Frank Malzone, Boston's brilliant third baseman, suffered blistered feet as a result of the scorching terrain in Municipal Stadium. The temperature was expected to be about 20 degrees cooler for today's game, scheduled to start at 12 noon with network radio and television coverage.

Tremendously impressed by the one-hit pitching of Bob Friend in his three-inning stint against the American League Monday, Alton decided to go with another Pittsburgh right-hander today. Law, 30, was equally effective in the first tilt, snuffing out a ninth inning rally. Coming to the assistance of Bob Buhl with two runners on base and only one out, he disposed of the next two batters with seven pitches. It was Law's only appearance in all-star competition.

Ford, on the other hand, is an All-Star veteran, but his record in these games is unglittering, to say the least. In six innings, he has been clipped for 12 hits and nine runs for an 0-1 record. He started in 1954, relieved in 1955 and 1956, and lost in relief last year.

The starting lineups:
UPPER ADAMS LITTLE LEAGUE

The Arentsville Pirates clinched the first half championship Tuesday evening by edging the Bigler-ville Phillies 10-9 in a thriller played at Arentsville.

Steve Slaybaugh poled a home-run with Mike Kane on base in the last of the final inning to clinch the game for the Pirates.

John Weaver and Jeff Brown smashed circuit drives for the Phillies.

Score by innings:
Phillies — 4 2 0 1 2 — 9-9
Pirates — 0 1 5 0 2 — 10-12

Batteries: Phillies — Brown and Sunbury; Pirates — Funt and Kane.

At Biglerville the Bendersville Yankees crushed the Red Sox 15-6 and moved into second place. Billy Taylor and Van Clark formed the winning battery. Jim Miller, Barry Jacoby and Lexie Eckenrode hurried for the Red Sox with Randy Heller catching.

The Arentsville Cardinals put together two big innings to down the Braves at Bendersville 14-8.

Score by innings:
Cardinals — 1 6 0 5 1 — 14-13-7
Braves — 4 2 1 0 1 — 8-4-2

Batteries: Cardinals — Stover, Tuckey and Ditzler; Braves — Cover and Wright.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The Powder Puff Derby, a transcontinental air race for women pilots, neared an end today with 55 planes already across the finish line and 22 more coming in on the last lap from Roanoke, Va.

The winner will not be known, however, until all of the light planes have reached the finish line at New Castle County Airport because the scoring is based on a handicap of average speed for total time in the air and the par speed of the particular type of plane a contestant is flying.

Last year's winner, Aileen Saunders, 33, of El Cajon, Calif., was the leader Tuesday with a score of 15.1540.

Gettysburg Little League

The Moose rolled to their fifth straight win of the season by walloping the Rotary 24-3, while in the second game, the Elks topped their third consecutive foe by edging the Gettysburg National Bank 7-4 in Little League play, Tuesday evening.

The Moose now loom as a possible threat to the first place Bream's. Coach "Bud" Knox's squad is three games away from the leaders with a 7-3 mark. Tom Sneeringer turned the tide on the Rotary as he gave up only one hit, a home run by Dennis Herring in the first frame with two men on base via walks. Sneeringer then retired the losers without a hit or run in the next five frames.

Meanwhile the Moose tallied 24 runs on an assortment of hits. Ken Hartman was once again the big slugger with a single, triple and home run. Jay Baker also tagged a four-bagger for the winners, his first of the season.

Seven runs on only three scattered hits enabled the Elks to eke out a win over the Bankers. John Eyer, Bank hurler, gave up three singles, but eight walks and six costly errors made the difference in the game. Eyer belted his third home run of the season in the sixth with no one on base.

POWER'S CASE TO GET ACTION

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball commissioner Ford Frick was expected to take some action today in the strange case of Vic Power, the reluctant Indian.

Power, a Cleveland first baseman, disappeared from the bench in Kansas City in the first All-Star game Monday, and sent word that he was ill when Manager Al Lopez decided to use him in mid-game.

"I haven't been able to reach Frick, obviously referring to Power," said a Cleveland official. "There is no formal inquiry, but I am in the process of getting the facts together."

Power made himself unavailable to all concerned, but Lopez was on hand and had plenty to say.

"I can't understand him," he said. "He was late getting to the game and told me he had dizzy spells during the night. It makes you wonder about the difference of attitude in the players, about their own desires of wanting to win."

"I might point out that Ted Williams was used as a pinch hitter in the second and Mickey Mantle was taken out in the sixth. They're both pretty good country players and they managed to stay until the end to cheer the other guys on."

Big Payoff Again At Shenandoah
CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Shenandoah Downs officials have $77,990 awaiting a lucky race fan. The unidentified player holds a $2 bonanza ticket with six correct winners punched out Tuesday and will receive the big payoff when he presents it at the track.

It was the second highest payoff since Shenandoah Downs introduced pool wagering July 5, but fell some $1,000 short of the $8,998 paid a six-horse winner last Friday night. The total pool was $12,956 the highest week night pool since the track began to operate the pool. Fifteen bonanza players picked five winners each to split the $222,800 each.

Another attendance and betting record topped at Shenandoah as 5,019 fans bet $236,302. It was the best Tuesday without giveaways or openings.

Tonight's feature, the Bee Line March Purse, has drawn eight sprinters headed by Edward L. Miller's Challa Wander. The three-year-olds, mostly $3,000 claimers, will go six furlongs.

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Texans grabbed three of the top four qualifying spots in the Trans-Mississippi Men's Golf Tournament Tuesday with John Garrett, former Rice University star from Houston, firing a 70-66-136 for the medal.

Charles Coody of Stamford, Tex., matched Garrett's 4-under-par 66 Tuesday and wound up a stroke back at 137. Deane Berman of Bethesda, Md., former British Amateur winner, had a 69-69-133 and Jack Cupit of Longview, Tex., broke even with par at 71-69-140.

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Song leader Robert S. Hall asked members of the Charleston Rotary Club Tuesday to stand and sing No. 38 from the Rotary song book and dedicate it to the two political conventions.

DETROIT (AP) — Injuries, illness and inactivity have made pudgy Bob Rosburg almost an unknown, relatively speaking, on the 1960 professional golf tour.

The defending PGA champion has had a hand injury, a stomach disorder and a run of so-so golf — and has made only $8,000 on the tour this year. His best showing was a tie for third place in the New Orleans Open and a tie for fourth in the Memphis event.

DETROIT (AP) — Ted Lindsay is a guy who not only wants to be remembered as a fellow who gave his all but also gave enough. Lindsay apparently realized Tuesday that he no longer could give enough and retired from the National Hockey League after 16 seasons — 13 with the Detroit Red Wings, and the last three with the Chicago Black Hawks.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

BUTLER WINS PARTY TITLE WITH SPEECH

By SAUL PETT
LOS ANGELES (AP) — It is clear who won individual honors at the opening session of the Democratic National Convention.

To Paul Ziffren, chairman of the California Convention Committee, went the distinction of being the first orator to refer to "the last syllable of recorded time."

This occurred at 6:18 p.m. He also became the first speaker to mention "our rendezvous with destiny," a phrase which hasn't failed the Democrats in 27 years.

Butler Is Close
Paul M. Butler, retiring national chairman, was first to the wire with "the whole world is watching us" and "peace is our business." Butler also was the only speaker of the evening to excite applause with a promise of non-appearances in the future. He got the hand by saying, "This is the last time I shall address you as national chairman."

In his 54-year tenure, Butler has proved one of the most controversial party chairmen of the century, a fact referred to with something less than obliqueness. He said, "If the national committee has taken a stand on issues, it has not taken a stand on men." He denied again Harry Truman's charge by insisting the convention has had "no rigging whatsoever."

Won Other Honors
Butler won other honors. He was the first speaker to mention Franklin D. Roosevelt, and he easily ran off with the Oscar for the best alliteration by blasting

The Oscar for the most literal gestures of the evening went without contest to Frank Church, 35, youngest member of the United States Senate and convention keynoter. 10 Yank Airmen Lost In Cold War

NEW YORK (AP) — Eighty American airmen have died or been reported missing in cold war episodes during the past 10 years.

The heaviest toll occurred on Sept. 2, 1955, when a turboprop transport plane was shot down in Soviet Armenia after going off course on a flight in Turkey. Russia returned the bodies of six crewmen, disclaiming knowledge of others. The United States said there had been 17 in the crew.

Sixteen crewmen were lost July 29, 1953, when a B50 bomber was shot down by MIGs over the Sea of Japan.

KATANGA EYES SECESSION IN CONGO RIOTING

By JOHN SWAELENS
BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Loss of its richest threatened The Congo today as Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga announced he had set up an independent state.

Tshombe, 42, a member of a wealthy Negro plantation and business family, said in a radio broadcast from Elisabethville that his Katanga government wants to form an economic community with Belgium and wants economic and military assistance from The Congo's former white rulers.

Tshombe said he would welcome aid from other countries of the free world if the Belgians do not support his secession from Premier Patrice Lumumba's central government in Leopoldville, which mean while asked the United Nations to help it regain control of its mutinous, rampaging native army.

Communist Tactics

Tshombe accused Lumumba of using Communist tactics and promoting chaos in The Congo, independent from Belgium for only 12 days.

Although Congo President Joseph Kasavubu has appealed repeatedly for the European population to stay and help run the new nation, Tshombe charged Lumumba is trying to drive the Belgians and other West Europeans out and supplant them with technicians from Communist countries.

"After elections, which were falsified in certain provinces... a central government based on an extremist majority has been created," Tshombe said.

Mutinous Troops

"The result came quickly. Soldiers, ridding themselves of all discipline, have been indulging since July 5 in acts of insubordination, threats, brutalities principally against European populations, searches, illegal arrests and finally, murders."

At least 12 Europeans and scores of Africans have been reported killed in the army mutiny that followed Congolese independence. At least 15,000 of the 100,000 whites have fled to neighboring African territories, Belgian, Dutch, Italian, American and other planes are mobilizing to fly them out.

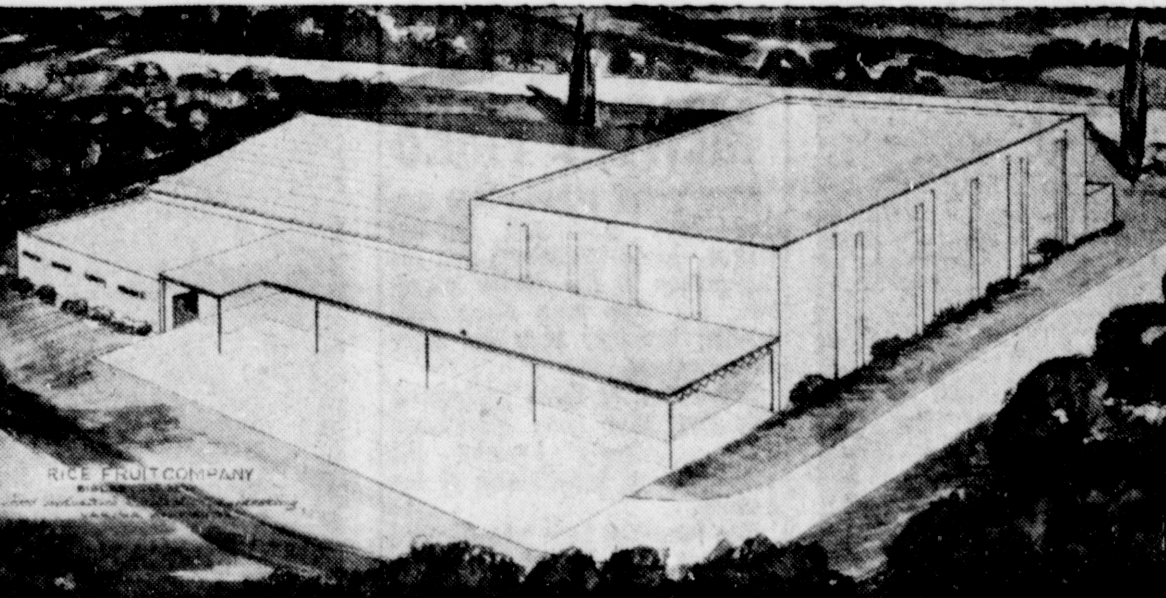

The Congo army mutiny spread to Elisabethville Sunday. Native troops besieged several hundred Europeans in a hotel and killed eight Europeans, including the Italian consul. Tshombe appealed for aid from Belgian troops stationed at bases in The Congo. Paratroopers were dropped in, freed the besieged whites, and restored order. Lumumba protested to the Brussels government against the troop intervention, but Tshombe defiantly said he would ask for more Belgian troops.

Confidence Restored

A European official reported by telephone from Elisabethville today that the Belgian army was in full control of the city of more than 75,000 and that "confidence is being slowly restored."

Katanga, in the eastern Congo, is about the size of Arizona and Utah combined and has a population of more than 1,300,000. It produces about 60 to 70 per cent of the new nation's wealth. Its main-

Will Enlarge Rice Fruit Company Plant

Above is an artist's sketch of the proposed enlarged Rice Fruit Company plant, near Aspers, which will provide for the addition of 120,000 boxes of storage and a covered receiving area which will permit operations in all weather conditions.

The Rice Fruit Co., near Aspers, is expanding its fruit cold storage and packing facilities in a program intended to maintain the reputation of its high quality pack.

This was indicated today by Arthur Rice, manager, who disclosed that a contract has been let to build 120,000 boxes of new storage, add to the packing area and provide an additional covered receiving and shipping area 40 by 165 feet, which will permit fruit handling operations to proceed under any weather conditions. Their new facilities will be one of the modern modern in the eastern apple industry.

The design of the plant's expansion program was created by Food Industries Research and Engineering, Yakima, Washington, with an eastern branch office in Harrisburg.

New Unloading Method

William Lott, member of the firm, said "one of the unique features of the packing operation would be the dumping of the fruit using a newly developed submergence dump." Apples will be emptied from palkes by submerging them in water so that the fruit gently floats out.

"The reduction in bruising from conventional methods is very great," Lott said, "and we may use this method in the future for handling peaches."

The contract for the construction work has been awarded to Nocco Contractors, Inc., of York, low bidders on the project, and the refrigeration contract has been awarded to Freezing Equipment Sales of York.

stays are copper, uranium, and other minerals. It is mostly a temperate plateau and has considerable cattle and other agriculture.

The leaders of Katanga, traditionally independent, were the last to submit to Belgian rule in the 19th century. Tshombe had favored a loose federal government for the new Congo state, fearing the central government would milk the province of its resources and not give back a fair share in services.

ZETTLE WARNS FRUIT GROWERS ON SPRAY USE

Peach spray information letter No. 11 has been sent to peach growers in Adams County by County Agent Frank Zettle advising them to control the peach tree borer on peaches, cherries, plums and prunes. This advice covers two sprays.

Zettle wrote that the first application should be made about July 15 on nonbearing trees and for those orchards that have been having trouble from the borer on bearing trees.

For every 100 gallons of spray used, Zettle said, the first application should consist of two pounds of 15 per cent WP parathion and four pounds 50 per cent WP DDT. He cautioned that extreme care must be taken to keep this spray off the fruit on account of residue hazard.

Second Application

The second application, to be applied on bearing trees after harvest and on nonbearing trees about August 10, Zettle instructed, should consist of two pounds of 15 per cent WP parathion and four pounds 50 per cent WP DDT. Growers who have used only the harvest spray on bearing trees and have been satisfied with control, he said, may continue to do so.

The agent said the method of spraying is to use moderate pressure, from 150 to 400 pounds, applying the spray on the trunks of the trees from the crotch limbs to the ground. Be sure, he said, the bark is thoroughly covered, as well as the soil at the base of the trees.

Zettle also sent out advice on preharvest sprays telling farmers that brown rot control is important. To insure sound fruit at harvest and to prolong its shelf life for the consumer.

Use Of Spray

"Excellent control of blossom blight in 1960 provides a lower than normal problem at this season—a trace amount can build up rapidly if wet weather occurs as peaches soften. Orchards where

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Convention lowlights:

Biggest police problem at the Biltmore Hotel are the pickpockets, known to the Joe Friday types as dips. The jam-packed corridors are happy hunting grounds for them. Delegates may lose their cash, but they get their wallets back: the light-fingered fellows always drop the evidence in a potted palm or elsewhere. Result of the dragnet so far: five dipniks.

Lobby sound: A woozy wino wearing buttons of all of the candidates and singing in a fog-horn voice, "Hallelujah, I'm a bum." He got no arguments.

Orange Juice, Smog

Sectionalism has reared its eager head. Florida's Gov. Leroy Collins, permanent chairman of the convention, is having fresh orange juice flown in from Florida. As if that wasn't a big enough blow to local pride, Los Angeles also turned on a touch of its infamous smog Monday.

Subversive note on a parading placard: "Be truly Democratic—Vote Republican."

The Symington forces have switched strategy in midcampaign. They had been giving out wrapped bandages marked "Stick with Symington." This led to comments that the back-running Stu might need them for his own wounds. Now the Missourians are dispensing Chinese cookies with this slogan inside: "We're for Stu. How about you?"

No one can explain the workings of convention guards. Party Chairman Paul Butler was delayed at the Sports Arena entrance until he could produce his identification. But Sammy Davis Jr., one of the stars arriving to sing the national anthem, breezed in with nary a pass.

chief speech writer, in the summer presidential office on the Newport Naval Base.

There was no advance information what the speech will contain. However, it is expected that Eisenhower will repeat his endorsement of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1960 Democratic convention is something less than emotional—in fact, dull so far—because more than just enthusiasm for an individual is involved.

The delegates' problem is a mixture of issues and individuals, since none of the would-be Democratic presidential candidates is an overwhelming personality.

And when the campaign begins—with Vice President Richard M. Nixon almost certain to be the Republican candidate—the voters will have to wrestle with the same twin problem of issues and personality.

Down To Fine Points

This was not the case, for instance, in 1956 when Adlai E. Stevenson went into far more details on issues and where he stood than President Eisenhower, only to see the immensely popular Eisenhower swamp him.

The hopeful senators from whom the Democratic convention had to choose today—Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Stuart Symington of Missouri—have had fairly liberal voting records.

The distinction between them on the issues has been, in a broad sense, a distinction on fine points. To put it another way, on the issues the convention had little to choose, although Northern voting Negroes and organized labor made the fine distinctions and chose Kennedy over Johnson.

Personality Enters In

Symington has had an extremely liberal voting record, yet he is as of now a poor third. Therefore, something more than just issues alone have to be factors in whatever the convention does.

It's at this point the personality problem enters, plus some other factors.

Kennedy spent far more time in 1960 trying to line up delegates for today—by visiting their states, seeking them out, running in their primaries—than did Johnson or Symington. They ran in no primaries.

Outsmarted Himself

Symington handicapped himself in other ways. He didn't say he was a candidate until late, didn't get around enough, and concentrated so much on national defense that he sacrificed appeal to various other group interests, even though his interests are far wider than just defense.

Johnson probably outsmarted himself—although extraordinarily careful about details—in relying on supporters than Kennedy did in rounding up delegates in the months preceding the convention. Kennedy did a lot of it first hand.

Johnson may have felt his work as majority leader in the Senate would make up for this—particularly as the Senate rolled up a legislative record—but it hasn't so far. And the Senate record has been very meager.

Each Had Problem

In addition to any leg work they did in rounding up delegates, the three men had to concern themselves with the problem of their personality.

Each had the task of trying to make himself appear the one best fitted to cope with the tense and unpredictable issues facing the country in the next four years.

This explains why Johnson, eight years older than Kennedy, tried to get across the idea of an older man is needed and why former President Harry S. Truman, backing Symington who is older than either Kennedy or Johnson, implied Kennedy is too young and lacks experience.

Up To Voters

The one chosen at this convention will have that same competition-personality problem to put across to the voters when the campaign begins and he runs against Nixon.

But Nixon will have exactly the same problem, beside dealing with the issues, since he cannot hope to sail in on personality. And for this reason: He simply lacks the popularity and war-hero stature that Eisenhower had when he won in 1952 and 1956.

The voter will have to decide which man's ideas—meaning his stand on the issues—appeals to him and which seems the more likely to be able to handle what lies ahead.

PIPE SMOKERS LACK FUEL FOR MENTAL FIRES

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that they have eradicated bubonic plague, dance marathons and the mosquitoes in the Jersey meadows, it's high time some high minded crusader took out after pipe smokers.

For centuries these peripatetic chimneys have gone unpunished while carelessly stewing hot ashes on the hearthstone of humanity.

The forgotten hero who dumped a bucket of water on Sir Walter Raleigh's initial attempt to introduce pipe smoking to Europe deserves better of history. He failed, but he had the right idea.

Looks Ridiculous

Mortal man seldom looks more ridiculous than when sucking on a noisome blazing bowl or groping feverishly in an oil slick sack for the fuel to feed a ludicrous habit that he cannot kick. By comparison, the cigarette smoker is an urbane sophisticate and the cigar smoker a paragon of dignity.

Yet it is the pipe smoker, rather than the man with the cigarette or cigar, who frequently is taken for an intellectual—a classic case of mistaking conflagration for celebration. Behind the blue swirl of pipe smoke, there is seldom intellectual fire.

The smug chap pursing his lips on a pipe stem may give the impression of mulling over some problem in nuclear fission or pondering some sticky point in Aristotelean logic. Actually, all his physical and mental contortions are concentrated on keeping the absurd boiler beneath his nose going full blast. The fires within have been banked too long.

Titanic Issues

His thoughts at their deepest concern such titanic issues as whether to tamp down the tobacco tighter or fluff it up looser, and whether to reach into his pocket for a cotton reaming rod to scrape out his nocturnal sewer in public.

The fact that the average pipe smoker can keep his counsel in a heated discussion doesn't mean that he is any more prudent, tolerant or worldly wise than the rest of us. It simply means that he is too busy playing stoker to his facial furnace to hear or care about what is being discussed.

People in all walks of life, from tweedy college professors to seedy skidrow deadbeats, have been hiding behind a haze of hypocrisy for years, with nothing more on their minds than whether to puff hard or puff easy. An impatient world invariably mistakes their reticence for sagacity.

But not everyone is fooled.

OSTEOPATH IS SUIT TARGET

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. Charles J. Van Ronk, prominent 73-year-old osteopathic physician widely known in sports circles, has been accused in a damage suit of stealing the affections of the 38-year-old wife of a school teacher.

In the suit filed Monday in Common Pleas Court, Carlo J. Grisanti, 34, asked damages "in excess of $5,000." The suit charged Van Ronk with "wickedly and unjustly" having an illicit love affair with Grisanti's wife, Viola Leona.

According to Grisanti's attorney, Howard L. Criden, Mrs. Grisanti last June started divorce proceedings against her husband.

Van Ronk, who retired in 1958, is a widower. His wife died in 1958.

The physician is credited with aiding scores of athletes who suffered bone and muscle ailments, including Dizzy Dean, Lou Gehrig, Ty Cobb, Howard Ehnke and Bobby Shantz.

News Briefs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons Monday fired five officers accused of immoral conduct with a 15-year-old Florida girl after she escaped from a Main Line school for retarded children.

In the 10-day dismissal notices the officers were charged with having been intimate with the girl, Diane St. Jean, with witnessing immoral acts and with failing to make arrests.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has been asked to reverse the conviction of a father and son charged with evading more than $900,000 in income taxes.

The two, Samuel Kravitz, 65, of Atlantic City, N. J., and Herman, 41, of Margate City, N. J., were convicted Feb. 10 in U. S. District Court in Camden, N. J., of conspiracy to evade corporate and personal income taxes.

CHICAGO (AP)—A Pennsylvania woman has joined four relatives in a suit aimed at breaking the will of a Chicago businessman who left most of his 1 1/2 million dollar estate to charity.

She is Mrs. Margaret L. Holman of Mahanoy City, Pa. Mrs. Holman and her relatives filed a suit Monday in Superior Court alleging that Walter P. Powers, 78, was of unsound mind when he made his will in 1957 and added a codicil in 1958.

FEW FIREWORKS AS DEMOCRATS JUST WARM UP

By SAUL PETT

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For awhile it looked like the Democrats were going to give us a coast-to-coast tranquilizer.

But Tuesday they began to act like Democrats. They began to fight.

The day started with a debate between candidates Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy. They met in something less than mortal combat. The day ended at convention hall with Democratic delegates fighting over civil rights. It was almost like old times.

Johnson Invitation

Johnson, the gray fox of Texas, invited Kennedy to debate the issues.

It proved to be a heart-warming meeting. There they were, Johnson and Kennedy, telling each other what great friends they were, two old Senate buddies, full of mutual admiration.

It was so moving you almost couldn't see them needle each other. But they did.

Needles Working

Kennedy wondered out loud about candidates who don't enter primaries, which Johnson didn't. Johnson innocently remarked on the importance of a good Senate attendance record, which Kennedy hasn't had lately.

Meanwhile, back in the convention hall, the second session moved along with all the alacrity of a dying elephant. Speakers got the same rapt attention Americans usually reserve for TV commercials.

Delegates Mill

The delegates milled in the aisles. They clustered around TV men clustering around somebody on camera. They took pictures of each other posing with Franklin

D. Roosevelt Jr. and other celebrities to impress the folks back home. They ogled Frank Sinatra and Peter Lawford, who wandered around wearing buttons which said, "Beat Khrushchev."

Temporary Chairman Frank Church, the boy senator from Idaho, begged the delegates to clear the aisles. They didn't. He got mad and threatened to call the cops. But the aisles remained clogged as if it were dollar-day at Tiffany's.

But it was Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, the permanent chairman, who had the roughest time holding or finding his audience. He stopped himself, pounded the gavel, and begged the delegates to alight somewhere.

Roosevelt Entrance

Then he was upstaged by Eleanor Roosevelt. Her entrance brought a big roar while delegates turned their backs on Collins.

Mercifully, the governor was allowed to finish before Adlai E. Stevenson entered and received a huge, 20-minute ovation.

Adlai got off the best crack of the convention so far. After getting in and out of the crowd at the convention headquarters, he said, "I know who will be nominated—it will be the last survivor."

SAYS SOME OF PA. DELEGATES MAY SWITCH

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pennsylvania delegates backing Sen. John F. Kennedy may switch their support if he fails to win the democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot tonight.

That's the opinion of U. S. Senator Joseph S. Clark Jr. It is backed by a large bloc of the 66 delegate votes presently committed to Kennedy.

caucus), does not make in on the first ballot, we should all reconsider our position," Clark declared Tuesday night.

66 For Kennedy Now

He made the statement shortly after Gov. David Lawrence, the chairman of the 81-vote delegation reported changes in delegate votes boosting Kennedy's support from 64 to 66.

"I agree with Gov. Lawrence that Adlai Stevenson is the best qualified man to be president, but I concurred in the feeling (at Monday's delegation caucus) that Adlai had no chance (for nomination)," Clark declared, adding: "But if the situation could change, I could change, too."

Clark said much the same thing in another interview on a radio network (Mutual).

He said that "something has happened" since Stevenson's dramatic entrance into the Los Angeles Sports Arena, the convention site, Tuesday night.

"We didn't think he had a chance but now perhaps he has," Clark said.

"I won't go out on a limb," he added, "but I can tell you this—the temper of our Pennsylvania delegation has changed. We may have to re-poll our group to determine the exact voting strength for all candidates today."

LAWRENCE IS SILENT FOR ADLAI'S HOUR

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pennsylvania's Gov. David Lawrence sat alone and silent Tuesday night while the Democratic convention delegation he leads whooped it up for Adlai Stevenson.

His reserve was a paradox. It was Lawrence who spearheaded successful convention fights in 1952 and 1956 for nomination of Stevenson as Democratic candidate for president.

This year Lawrence is backing Sen. John F. Kennedy for the nomination.

As Stevenson made his way across the convention hall to the podium, 160 Pennsylvania delegates rose to their feet applauding. A number of them went marching off to the center of the Los Angeles Sports Arena to join the throng greeting the former Illinois

People who make Esso a habit seem to have a little more fun driving. They have their reasons. One is the service they get. Another is their fuel. Esso Extra Gasoline, for example, has continually given them more improvements for smooth power and thrifty mileage than any other gasoline! Any wonder they've made the Esso Sign World's First Choice?
